Everything Else Depends Upon Well Planned Roads and Streets.

The importance of suburban extension along broad lines and with fore-sight, rather than in a haphazard and plecemeal manner, was emphasized by John Nolen, a landscape architect from Cambridge, Mass., in a speech on town planning delivered at Ginter Park last night. The lecture was fully illustrated with slides showing streets, schools, playgrounds, parks and gen-eral schemes of land subdivisions. The company has absorbed the business conducted for many years by the Gor-don Cigar and Cheroot Company, and will for the present confine itself ex-clusively to the manufacture of che-

In a letter addressed to the trade yesterday the new concern assures patrons of the Gordon Cigar and Cheroot Company that the various brands of cigars and cheroots made popular under the old management will con-tinue to be supplied by the new, with no change in quality. The company indicates that it will not seek to create its market by expensive advertising campaigns, but will rely rather on the quality and originality of its products.
The Patterson Brothers Tobacco Company has acquired the large building at Main and Twenty-sixth Streets, now occupied by F. D. Williams & Co., and expects to transfer its entire plant to that location within two or three menths. The building is a large one, and will be remodeled to take care of

With the transfer to the building the company will extend its operations to include the manufacture of several brands of smoking tobacco, and may later undertake the manufacture of chewing tobacco and clgarettes. National Canned Foods Week

The Highest Authorities

I had written for perhaps ten years warning American women against canned foods. I said, put them up at home or go without them. I beg them now to use canned foods. We are proud MARION HARLAND.

Por seasons of natural shortage, for periods, places and times when fresh goods are not available, the canned goods fill a most important place in the modern dictary, and the wholesomeness, palatability and convenience of the products are in most instances inquestionable and under modern conditions of life they are filling a larger and larger need.

DR. HARVEY W. WILEY.

These earned goods were essential to the subsistence of the troops in the Philippines who were scattered through the Islands and subjected to unsanitary conditions and surroundings. But the general good health of the army there, especially during cholera and plague epidemics, when canned goods were principally used, was primarily due to the variety and wholesomeness of the canned foods. canned foods. Heat at 250 Degrees—The Only Preservative

We use only heat as a preservative, with sometimes a savor of sugar or salt. Our canneries are close to our supplies. Usually not more than four or five hours pass from the time these foods are taken from their natural surroundings until they are sealed in the cans and sterilized at 250 degrees, ready for the market.

They are fresh when we can them-and just as fresh when you open them as the day they were prepared. They are perfectly pure, clean and wholesome. They are even served to convalescents in hospitals, because physicians know that canned foods are absolutely protected from the dirt and contamination to which the so-called fresh fruits and vegetables
